

*Join us in sunny San Diego, California for the next National Judicial Institute on Domestic Child Sex Trafficking (NJDCST) on June 5-7, 2017!

Program Dates: June 5-7, 2017 (2.5 days) Location: San Diego, California

Judges and judicial officers are invited to attend this highly interactive training which utilizes hypothetical case scenarios, small group discussion, practical courtroom exercises, and “mini” lectures to cover an important selection of topics, including but not limited to:

- Victim demographics
- Risk factors
- Recruitment and control tactics
- Trafficking legislation
- Complex trauma
- Historical/intergenerational trauma
- Cultural considerations
- Standards of care and services
- Placement issues
- Judicial leadership

New and experienced judges will return home with the tools they need to develop or enhance their ability to identify and work with child sex trafficking victims. Judges will also learn effective intervention strategies and a stronger sense of their courtroom and community roles to help prevent and end sex trafficking.

There is no registration fee for this program but participants will be responsible for their own airfare, lodging, meals, and other costs. Registration is open to judges and other judicial officers (commissioners, magistrates, etc.) only. There are no scholarships available for the Institute at this time.
